

From: [REDACTED]
To: LNGStudy
Cc: FERGAS
Subject: It is crazy to export a gas that is killing our land in <http://go.to/marcellusstop> its extraction
Date: Thursday, January 24, 2013 4:16:45 PM

To the Department of Energy re LNG exports:

I challenge anyone at DOE to watch the PowerPoint I prepared after thousands of hours of research. It cannot possibly be all wrong, and most of it is quite accurate. I have challenged gas companies to refute it. Silence. I ran it by Penn State's Marcellus Center for Outreach and Education, a pro-industry group. No challenge to my facts and the measured way in which I present them (except when I get personal and tell the gas companies that, based on these facts, they are not welcome anywhere near my farm). I now challenge DOE. Take a look. <http://go.to/marcellusstop> Then tell me why this nation would do anything that would stimulate more such destruction as that which the extraction of natural gas from unconventional sources is visiting upon our country.

Economics is a social science, so DOE has not business rejecting mine or anyone else's comments that go to the social and environmental (living conditions) of humans and other living beings who depend on water and air to survive.

Sincerely,

J. Stephen Cleghorn, PhD
Paradise Gardens and Farm LLC
[REDACTED]
Reynoldsville, PA 15851
[REDACTED]